Lowdown Brass Band

Chicago's Lowdown Brass Band is a ten-piece, horn-driven ensemble with strong roots in the New Orleans "Second Line" tradition. A fierce sousaphone sets the foundation for trumpets, trombones and saxophones that intertwine in a cacophony of tight lead lines, spontaneous call-and-response and bombastic brass attacks. While taking a page from the jazz and blues giants of the past, LDB melds modern funk, hip-hop, reggae and pop into a unique new style.

Delilah DeWylde and the Lost Boys

A long time ago, at the dawn of the Atomic Age, a succession of no-good punks and ill-mannered teenagers took the best of American roots music – hard-partying honky tonk country, searing gutbucket blues and lonesome hillbilly twang – and distilled it into a potent moonshine known as rockabilly. This combustible formula, passed down through the generations, forms the heart of Delilah DeWylde and the Lost Boys.

NEW HOLLAND BREWING CO

66 East 8th Street • 616.355.6422

Anna Lee's Co.

Anna Lee's Co. plays a rootsy blend of original funk, blues and folk rock. Straight outta Ann Arbor, Anna Lee's boasts an all star cast of characters from Back Forty, The Ragbirds, Hoodang, Hullabaloo and more, featuring fiddle, horns, guitars, harp, bass and drums. With tasty grooves, spicy hot licks and soulful harmonies, Anna Lee's Co. has set out to carry the soul of American roots music to today's hottest dance floors.

OUR BREWING COMPANY

76 East 8th Street • 616.994.8417

Fly Paper

With soulful vocals, fiercely elegant guitars, and a high-energy rhythm section, Fly Paper never fails to inspire crowds with their original songs. Micaela's voice is often compared to that of Fiona Apple and Norah Jones, while her guitar playing carries on the traditions of Jimi Hendrix and Jimmy Page. The four-piece band fuses elements of rock, folk and blues into an unforgettable musical experience. With catchy songs, command of their instruments and a powerful stage presence, Fly Paper will be remembered long after the lights go out!

PARK THEATRE

248 South River Avenue • 616.929.9249

The Mainstays

The Mainstays are a funk and soul band from Kalamazoo. Featuring Andrew Schrock, Dutch Conway and Nate Heymoss of Michigan's funk/dance band Funktion, the band draws heavily from the groovy elements that made Funktion a bonafide dance party, all while crafting dynamic, insightful and almost folk-influenced songs. Half-beast/half-man Paul Bauer behind the drum kit and the downright dirty playing of Tom McRockin Eldred (BMF Band) on keys bring the sound fully together.

GET HOME SAFELY!

We care about you...really, we do! So please plan ahead to make sure that you get home safely at the end of the night. Get a DD, call a taxi or spend the night downtown at one of our three lodging establishments!

Designated Drivers

During GrooveWalk, ask the wristband sales staff at all locations about the GrooveWalk Designated Driver Program. You'll receive a separate designated driver wristband, which will allow you to receive FREE soft drinks and coffee at all of the GrooveWalk venues. There is no charge for Designated Driver wristbands, but all designated drivers must also purchase a GrooveWalk wristband for entry into the venues. Please remember that all venues have a 21 and over age restriction. To enter venues, your designated driver must also be over the age of 21.

PARROT'S LOUNGE

234 South River Avenue • 616.396.4577

The Machines

The Machines are a versatile, vintage-era rock band that has its roots in the early British Invasion musical wave. The band itself is comprised of veteran musicians from West Michigan. The Machines became well known for resurrecting great songs that had faded from the memories of all but die-hard fans; coupled with energetic, danceable and well-recognized tunes, they create the perfect atmosphere for any venue. From The Beatles to The Who, Grand Funk to Santana, Three Dog Night to Bad Finger, The Machines are pure musical fun.

THE PERFORMERS

Greg Hulsebos

Greg Hulsebos is a skilled musician and singer who is known for his variety of early ragtime, blues and jazz tunes. He can be seen performing regularly at the Holland Farmers Market and during the Downtown Holland Street Performer Series in the summer.

Matt Gabriel

Born and raised in Grand Rapids, 25-year-old Matt Gabriel has been playing shows on stage for 10 years now. The last five of those years have been spent performing all over the country, from the noisy jazz bars in the deep south of Louisiana to the singer/songwriter coffee shops of Seattle. The progression of his ability to blend inspiring lyrics with paralyzing hooks is an honest blend of folk and blues with a solid rock and roll center.

Randy Schaap

Randy plays a multitude of different instruments, including the harmonica, Irish penny whistle, congas, keyboard, bass guitar and more. You can find Randy and his wife Darlene performing at churches, fairs and outdoor markets; however, they are best known for their street performing in Downtown Holland, where they regularly perform Gospel, traditional Irish and blues music.
