

Vol. 5 No. 1 2014

Annapolis HOME

Anne Arundel | Eastern Shore

The Awards Issue

See the Prize Winning Projects
Plunge into Healing Waters
Tour a Bay Ridge Beauty

$3.99 US $4.99 CAN

01>

0 74470 26451 4

THE WINNERS

Announcing
the Winners of the 2013
Annapolis Home Magazine
Design Awards

MEET THE 2013 JUDGES

Kelley Proxmire
Kelley Interior Design

In her twenty-one year career, Proxmire has developed an eye for crafting what she describes as "tailored traditional" interiors. Her projects, including residential projects throughout the Eastern seaboard, have been showcased in such publications as Traditional Home, Washingtonian, Home & Design, Bethesda, The Washington Post, and The Georgetowner. Proxmire was inducted into the Washington Design Center Hall of Fame in 2009.

Scott Knudson
Architect & Vice President of Wienczek + Associates Architects + Planners

Knudson is the president of the Potomac Valley chapter of the American Institute of Architects and Vice President of Wienczek + Associates Architects + Planners, a firm of forty architects in Gaithersburg, MD, and DuPont Circle designing sustainable and socially responsible work that improves communities. He believes architecture is a practical expression of who we are yet has the power to change who we are.

Tom Mannion
Tom Mannion Landscape Design

Tom Mannion is committed to designing and building gardens that look and feel native to the Mid-Atlantic area and are both easy to live in and exquisitely built. Mannion has received eleven Grand Awards and three Distinction Awards from the Landscape Contractors Association. He is also past president of the LCA. His work has appeared in Southern Living, Southern Accents, Fine Gardening, Home & Design, and The Washington Post.

GRAND PRIZE

Campion Hruby Landscape Architects
Waterfront Landscape Architecture

This residence on South River East was designed to beckon visitors to the water view. As guests approach, they are forced to park fifty yards shy of the front door. Then, they move toward the entrance along a path of travertine stepping-stones, crossing over a shallow pool of water as they enter. Two groups of plantings frame the approach: on one side a long, stainless steel planter is filled with native grasses. On the other, a bosque of river birch is underplanted with Eragrostis spectabilis.

On the waterfront side of the house, the garden is planted with large sweeps of Chesapeake natives to blend the house into its ecological surroundings. A travertine terrace and wood deck create intimate spaces to take in the view. Lawn is minimized and perennial combinations, including many deer-resistant plants, dominate the foreground.

The fine details of the design, the paving, decks, fencing, gates, and water feature, fuse the house and garden as a gesture that is both indigenous and contemporary.

Resources:

Builder: Ilex Construction
Hardscape and Pond Contractor: Quarry Aquatics
Landscape Contractor: Walnut Hill Landscape Company
Irrigation and Lighting Contractor: Terra Nova Design
Shoreline Contractor: Unity Landscape
Photography By David Burroughs

