

NATIVE COUNSELLING SERVICES OF ALBERTA

CASE WORKER Cunningham Place Edmonton, Alberta

Competition No. 1757

Closing Date: August 9th.2018

Native Counselling Services of Alberta (NCSA) is a diverse, dynamic non-government organization that is committed to the holistic wellness and equitable treatment of Alberta's Indigenous individuals, families and communities since 1970. NCSA currently is seeking an individual to provide support and referral services to youth residing at Cunningham Place and wanting to make positive changes in their life. The successful applicant will have previous experience working with youth, building connections to organizations and services to enhance capacity in providing services specific to youth. This individual must be prepared to be on call for occasional weekends and evenings to support youth they are working with. This is a challenging permanent position with internal training provided.

Qualifications:

- Social Work Degree and/or related human resource field and/or extensive experience with multi barrier Indigenous youth and their families.
- Experience in providing one to one supports and referrals with demonstrated ability to work with community agencies.
- Appraise clients' needs or eligibility for residency and supports.
- Strong coordination, organizational, planning and problem solving skills.
- Previous knowledge and experience in case recording practices is an asset.
- Good working knowledge of computers and their programs.
- Dependable with excellent verbal and written communication skills.
- Must have a reliable vehicle, valid driver's license with required liability insurance suitable for the position and provide a Driver's Abstract.
- Must provide recent Criminal Record Check, Child Intervention Record Check.
- Knowledge of Indigenous youth, their culture, traditions and values would be a definite asset.

Please forward resume, covering letter to: Manager, Human Resources
Native Counselling Services of Alberta
14904 – 121 A Avenue
Edmonton, Alberta T5V 1A3
Telephone/Fax: 780-482-7893
Email: marg-milicevic@ncsa.ca

While we appreciate all responses, only candidates under consideration will be contacted.

