

NATIVE COUNSELLING SERVICES OF ALBERTA
FAMILY COURT WORKER
Calgary, Alberta

Competition No. 1888

Closing Date: October 20th.2020

Native Counselling Services of Alberta (NCSA) is a diverse, dynamic non-government organization that is committed to the holistic wellness and equitable treatment of Alberta's Aboriginal individuals, families and communities since 1970. NCSA is currently looking for an individual to work within our team as a Family Court Worker in Calgary. This position is responsible for assisting clients in family court explaining their rights, options and responsibilities. This individual should have a strong work ethic, non-judgmental and work within the mandate of the organization. Additional training will be provided. This is a maternity leave position with an anticipated end date of August 2021.

Qualifications:

- Possess a minimum education of grade 12 with post-secondary education and/or previous work experience in corrections an asset.
- Ability to work with clients and the community in a professional, courteous manner to develop and strengthen professional working relationships.
- Working knowledge and experience with MS Office, Word, Excel and Outlook.
- Must have strong interpersonal relations, organizational, decision making, problem solving and time management skills.
- Possess knowledge and in-depth understanding of historic trauma and its impact on Indigenous people. Also must have knowledge and understanding relating to Indigenous culture, ceremony and approaches to healing.
- Must be proficient in the use of grammar, spelling and punctuation in the English language. Previous public speaking is a definite asset.
- Must become proficient with NCSA Resiliency Model and incorporate this into daily interactions with clients, co-workers and the community.
- Must have a valid Alberta driver's license, reliable vehicle with required liability insurance for the position. Must provide up to date driver's abstract, criminal record check, child intervention check.
- Ability to speak an Indigenous language to the area is a definite asset.

Please forward resume, covering letter to

Manager, Human Resources
Native Counselling Services of Alberta
14904-121 A Avenue
Edmonton, Alberta T5V 1A3
Telephone/Fax: 780-482-7893
Email: marg-milicevic@ncsa.ca

While we appreciate all responses, only candidates for an interview will be contacted.

